Case Name: Securities and Exchange Commission v. Davison et al

Case Number: 8:20-cv-00325-MSS-AEP

Filer:

Document Number: 166(No document attached)

Docket Text:

ENDORSED ORDER ADVISING that the Receiver's counsel has submitted an email request to the Courtroom Deputy (CRD) stating the following: "Given the issues raised in Mr. Davison's untimely opposition filed today, the SEC and the Receiver would also like for the Receiver's forensic accountant, Maria Yip, to be able to attend the hearing. It is not anticipated that [she] would be testifying, but will be available to answer any questions the Court may have. Her email address is [...]. Thank you." The Court will permit the forensic accountant to occupy one of the limited spaces available on the videoconference hearing. Ms. Yip will receive the Zoom hearing login information via email from the Courtroom Deputy. In the future, however, any substantive requests or communications concerning any substantive argument or any viewpoint about the timeliness of any pleading should be made by virtue of a motion and not an ex parte, non-public communication with the Court through any of its staff. The type of correspondence that would have sufficed as proper communication with staff in this instance should have been a straightforward request from counsel to the CRD to please include the forensic accountant on the roster of hearing participants; no further editorializing was necessary or appropriate. Signed by Judge Mary S. Scriven on 7/30/2020. (GMD)
