RECEIVER'S UNOPPOSED MOTION TO APPROVE
SALE OF MISCELLANEOUS ASSETS

Burton W. Wiand, as Receiver (the "Receiver") over the assets of the corporate and relief defendants,¹ moves the Court to approve the marketing and sale of miscellaneous assets in the Receiver's possession for the benefit of the Receivership Estate. As described more specifically below, the Receiver is in possessions of various items (i.e. personal items, internet domains, small business assets, safes, sports memorabilia), the value of which are less than $50,000 each.² Rather than seek the Court's approval of the sale of each item, the Receiver is seeking the Court's approval for him to sell these items through the Receiver's online auction website, private sale, or in the case of the domains through GoDaddy's auction sale site. As explained below and as evidenced by the Receiver's earlier online property and automobile auctions and approved private sales, the Receiver believes the proposed manner of sale is commercially reasonable and will result in a fair and equitable recovery for the Receivership Estate. The Receiver also moves for relief from the requirements of 28 U.S.C. §§ 2001 and 2004 in connection with the sales.

BACKGROUND

The Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC") alleges that, prior to the appointment of the Receiver, Brian Davison and Barry Rybicki used the Receivership Entities to perpetrate a massive real estate Ponzi scheme that raised more than $170 million from over 1,100 victim investors across the country.

² This amount mirrors the language in the Order Appointing the Receiver at paragraph 7 which allows the Receiver to defend, compromise or settle legal actions up to a total amount of $50,000 for each claim. See Doc. 11 at 4-5.

At the request of the SEC, on February 14, 2020, the Court entered a temporary restraining order and asset freeze (Docs. 10 & 11). A preliminary injunction hearing was held on July 31, 2020. On August 17, 2020, the Court granted the SEC's request for entry of a preliminary injunction. The Receiver is directed to "administer and manage the business affairs, funds, assets, choses in action and any other property of the Corporate Defendants and Relief Defendants; marshal and safeguard all of the assets of the Corporate Defendants and Relief Defendants and take whatever actions are necessary for the protection of investors" (Doc. 11 at p. 2). The Court specifically directed the Receiver to "[t]ake immediate possession of all property, assets and estates of every kind of the Corporate Defendants and Relief Defendants whatsoever and wheresoever located . . . and to administer such assets as is required in order to comply with the directions contained in this Order, and to hold all other assets pending further order of this Court" and to "[i]nitially recover, control and possess liquid assets, known real estate, LLC assets and high-end personal assets purchased with funds traceable from investor proceeds, and trusts if the Receiver deems appropriate." Doc. 11 at p. 2-3 ¶¶ 2-3.

Personal Items

At the time of his appointment, the Receiver took possession of EquiAlt's main office at 2112 W. Kennedy Boulevard ("Office") and a warehouse at 2101 W. Cypress Street (“Warehouse”). Both properties were turned over to Receiver as part of SEC’s settlement with Brian Davison. The Court approved the sale of the Office on November 19, 2021 (Doc. 444) and that transaction closed in the fourth quarter of 2021. Prior to the closing, the office equipment and other personal items located in the office were transported to the Warehouse.

The Warehouse was outfitted as a “man cave” by Mr. Davison. At the time of the Receiver’s appointment, the Warehouse contained several high-end automobiles, a hydraulic lift, and a complete gym setup. Additionally, the Warehouse includes a small kitchen and a living area with furniture and televisions.

Between the Office and the Warehouse, the Receiver has an inventory of personal items that need to be liquidated for the benefit of the Receivership Estate. These items range from gym equipment to sunglasses to staplers to office chairs. See Exhibit 1 for a non-exhaustive list of items.

Internet Domains

As part of the Court’s Final Judgment against Brian Davison and the Assignment Mr. Davison entered into with the Receiver, Mr. Davison turned over 250 internet domains. See Exhibit 2. One of the Receiver’s counsel, Robert Stines, and Robert Rohr of E-Hounds have investigated various options for the re-sale of these domains. Their recommendation to the Receiver is to sell the domains through GoDaddy's auction site. This site requires the Receiver to set a reserve price for each domain but otherwise it operates like an E-Bay type auction site. It is anticipated that the domains could sell for several hundred dollars to several thousand dollars. Rather than seek the Court's approval for the sale of each domain, the Receiver is seeking the Court's approval for the Receiver to sell all of these domains in this manner.

Business Assets

Another asset referenced in the Final Judgment against Mr. Davison and the Assignment between the Receiver and Mr. Davison is any interest in Nantahala Brewing Company ("NBC"), including any security interest in NBC equipment. As a result of collection efforts relating to a loan to NBC that occurred before the Receiver was appointed, title to the equipment has been transferred to the Receiver. The Receiver is fielding offers for the purchase of the various pieces of equipment.³

Additionally, in October 2022, the Court approved the sale of a property located at 12100 Seminole Boulevard ("Caribbean Isles") which is located in a mobile home co-op (Doc. 699). The closing on that transaction has taken place. However, the Receiver still owns the mobile home that sits on that property. The Receiver requests that this mobile home (VIN #T356FR16930A) be included in the miscellaneous assets to be approved for sale through this motion.

Safes

As part of his Assignment with the Receiver, Mr. Davison turned over two high-end watch safes. The market for this type of item is very limited. Also, one of the safes has a technical issue that is being resolved. The Receiver believes this is the type of item that he will best be able to sell through private sale and requests authority to do so without further order of the Court.

Sports Memorabilia

Barry Rybicki, as part of his Assignment with the Receiver, turned over two items of framed sports memorabilia: an autographed Michael Jordan jersey and an autographed Wayne Gretzky jersey. The Receiver intends to include these items in the online auction or other commercial auction facility with reserve prices commiserate with similar items that have sold elsewhere online.

Plan for Sale of Items

Given the results of the Receiver's earlier and ongoing auctions, the Receiver believes that this process will continue to provide him an efficient way to dispose of many of the items referenced in this motion. Any auctions will be publicized through the Receiver's website (www.receivership-auctions.com), the Tampa Bay Times and social media. For those items that have a more niche market (i.e. business assets and safes), the Receiver and his team will use their experience and resources to seek interested buyers or possibly use commercial auction facilities to liquidate this property to attain the best price for the benefit of the Receivership Estate.

ARGUMENT

I. THE COURT HAS BROAD POWER OVER THIS RECEIVERSHIP

The Court's power to supervise an equity receivership and to determine the appropriate actions to be taken in the administration of the receivership is extremely broad. S.E.C. v. Elliott, 953 F.2d 1560, 1566 (11th Cir. 1992); S.E.C. v. Hardy, 803 F.2d 1034, 1038 (9th Cir. 1986). The Court's wide discretion derives from the inherent powers of an equity court to fashion relief. Elliott, 953 F.2d at 1566; S.E.C. v. Safety Finance Service, Inc., 674 F.2d 368, 372 (5th Cir. 1982). A court imposing a receivership assumes custody and control of all assets and property of the receivership, and it has broad equitable authority to issue all orders necessary for the proper administration of the receivership estate. See S.E.C. v. Credit Bancorp Ltd., 290 F.3d 80, 82-83 (2d Cir. 2002); S.E.C. v. Wencke, 622 F.2d 1363, 1370 (9th Cir. 1980). The court may enter such orders as may be appropriate and necessary for a receiver to fulfill his duty to preserve and maintain the property and funds within the receivership estate. See, e.g., Official Comm. Of Unsecured Creditors of Worldcom, Inc. v. S.E.C., 467 F.3d 73, 81 (2d Cir. 2006). Any action taken by a district court in the exercise of its discretion is subject to great deference by appellate courts. See United States v. Branch Coal, 390 F. 2d 7, 10 (3d Cir. 1969). Such discretion is especially important considering that one of the ultimate purposes of a receiver's appointment is to provide a method of gathering, preserving, and ultimately liquidating assets to return funds to creditors. See S.E.C. v. Safety Fin. Serv., Inc., 674 F.2d 368, 372 (5th Cir. 1982) (court overseeing equity receivership enjoys "wide discretionary power" related to its "concern for orderly administration") (citations omitted).

II. SELLING THESE ASSETS IN THIS MANNER IS IN THE BEST INTEREST OF THE RECEIVERSHIP ESTATE

The Court should approve the Receiver's proposal as it avoids time and expenses associated with selling these smaller individual assets and filing separate motions for Court approval. This saves both judicial time and attorney resources. The practical problems of selling these smaller items can generate significant expense and require as much effort from the Receiver as selling much more valuable assets. The procedures suggested by the Receiver will allow these miscellaneous items to be sold efficiently and economically. Further, as described below in Section III, the Receiver's proposal substantially complies with the relevant statutes.

III. THE REQUIREMENTS OF 28 U.S.C. §§ 2001(a) and 2002

Personal property sold by a federal court receiver should be done in compliance with 28 U.S.C. § 2001(a) ("Section 2001(a)") and 28 U.S.C. § 2004 ("Section 2004"). Section 2001(a) reads as follows:

Any realty or interest therein sold under any order or decree of any court of the United States shall be sold as a whole or in separate parcels at public sale at the courthouse of the county, parish, or city in which the greater part of the property is located, or upon the premises or some parcel thereof located therein, as the court directs. Such sale shall be upon such terms and conditions as the court directs. Property in the possession of a receiver or receivers appointed by one or more district courts shall be sold at public sale in the district wherein any such receiver was first appointed, at the courthouse of the county, parish, or city situated therein in which the greater part of the property in such district is located, or on the premises or some parcel thereof located in such county, parish, or city, as such court directs, unless the court orders the sale of the property or one or more parcels thereof in one or more ancillary districts.

28 U.S.C. § 2001(a) (emphasis added). Section 2004 reads in relevant part as follows:

Any personalty sold under any order or decree of any court of the United States shall be sold in accordance with Section 2001 of this titled, unless the court orders otherwise.

28 U.S.C. § 2004 (emphasis added). Sections 2001(a) and 2004 impose relatively onerous and costly procedures, including an in-person auction at the courthouse (or other property as the Court directs).

The Court has the discretion to waive strict compliance. Pursuant to Section 2001(a), the auctions shall occur “as the court directs” and “[s]uch sale shall be upon such terms and conditions as the court directs.” 28 U.S.C. § 2001(a). Additionally, Section 2004 indicates that personal property “shall be sold in accordance with section 2001 of this title, unless the court orders otherwise” 28 U.S.C. § 2004 (emphasis added). Here, using the discretion afforded by Sections 2001(a) and 2004, the Court should “order otherwise” in approving the Receiver’s proposal. The Receiver’s auction method (and GoDaddy’s domain auction) provides all of the protection that would be provided by an auction on the courthouse steps and, through modern technology, provides vastly greater notice of the auctions and participation by interested buyers. Moreover, allowing the Receiver to utilize his discretion to evaluate and utilize the proposed methods of sale for these small items is efficient, cost-effective and benefits the Receivership estate.

The waivers requested by the Receiver routinely occur in enforcement actions and receiverships, including those in this district. See F.T.C. et al. v. E.M. Systems & Services, LLC et al., Case No. 8:15-cv-1417-T-23EAJ, Order

(M.D. Fla. March 4, 2016) (finding good cause to excuse receiver from judicial sale procedures of 28 U.S.C. § 2001); S.E.C. v. A. Nadel et. al., Case No. 8:09-cv-00087-RAL-TBM, Order (M.D. Fla. Aug. 13, 2013) (authorizing receiver to sell automobile and deviate from appraisal and publication requirements under 28 U.S.C. § 2001); S.E.C. v. Kirkland, 2008 WL 4264532, *2 (M.D. Fla. 2008) (approving sale of personal property without appraisals or publication where costs of compliance would significantly offset sale proceeds). Therefore, the Receiver requests that these additional procedures under 28 USC § 2001 be waived.

CONCLUSION

For the foregoing reasons, the Receiver moves the Court for entry of an order granting the Receiver the authority to sell the referenced miscellaneous assets via online auctions, private sale or other means that, in the Receiver's judgment, provide the most efficient and economical method of liquidation of these items.
